The method of instruction at this law school for the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree program is principally in physical classroom facilities. Students enrolled in the J.D. program at this law school who successfully complete the first year of law study must pass the First-Year Law Students' Examination required by Business and Professions Code sec 6060(h) and Rule VIII of the Rules Regulating Admission to Practice Law in California as part of the requirements to qualify to take the California Bar Examination. A Student who passes the First-Year Law Students' Examination within three (3) administrations of the examination after first becoming eligible to take it will receive credit for all legal studies completed to the time the examination is passed. This institution has received approval to operate and authority to confer degrees for Doctor of Jurisprudence. It is registered as an unaccredited law school with the State Bar of California in order that students can qualify for licensing as an attorney in this state. Approval was issued when it was determined that this institution's operational plan satisfied the minimum standards listed in Education Code (CEC) §94900 or 94915, whichever is applicable. A student who does not pass the examination within three (3) administrations of the examination after the first becoming eligible to take it must be promptly disqualified from the law school's J.D. degree program, but will receive credit for only one year of legal study.

Study at, or graduation from this law school may not qualify a student to take the bar examination or to satisfy the requirements for admission to practice in jurisdictions other than California. A student intending to seek admission to practice law in a jurisdiction other than California should contact the admitting authority in that jurisdiction regarding the legal education requirements in that jurisdiction for admission to practice law.

I have read and understand the law school catalog and the disclosures therein. I, hereby, certify that the above statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge.
